Where can I practice speaking French at FIAF?

Many members are interested in coming to FIAF in order to practice speaking French. Please find below a list of activities where you can enjoy putting your hard-earned language skills to work in an enjoyable format. These opportunities will allow you to practice your oral comprehension and speaking skills, in addition to making new friends with other FIAF members. Students will enjoy finding programs at their level to complement their instruction in the FIAF Language Center.

Please consult the FIAF website (www.fiaf.org) for more information, dates and to register.

Café de la Presse

Share your interest in France and discuss current events as seen in the French press. For B1 students and above. In the Library on Thursdays at 6:30; once monthly.

Cercles de Lecture

Join fellow Francophiles at these popular book discussion groups. For students levels A2, B1, B2. In the Library on Thursdays at 6:30; one session per level each season.

Faites vos Jeux!

Practice your French while playing Scrabble or Taboo. Players are grouped by language level: A2-B1-B2. Activity and vocabulary sheets are provided; and prizes are awarded to the winners! In the Library on Thursdays at 6:30. See FIAF website for dates.

Rendez-vous

Join French-speakers of all levels after work for conversation moderated by native speakers. Enjoy wine and cocktails, soft drinks and snacks in a fun, welcoming environment. Monthly at 6:30 on alternating Tuesdays and Wednesdays; see web site for dates and venue.

Paroles d'Auteur

As part of the Write about Now series, the Library will host intimate talks at 6pm in French with each French author before the Skyroom event. Participants can converse with the author in a question-and-answer session after the talk. See website for details.

Conversation classes at the Language Center

In addition to its regular language classes, the FIAF language center offers a wide-range of conversation classes and workshops for all schedules and language levels. See the FIAF website for details and fees.
